

Build the Knowledge You Need to Make Better Health Plan Decisions

Part 1 – Virtual Education through ZOOM

9 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

Healthcare costs continue to rise, regulations continue to evolve, and employers are under increasing pressure to make informed decisions about their health benefit programs. Understanding how self-funded health plans operate is no longer optional but essential for organizations seeking to manage costs while continuing to provide competitive employee benefits.

The MASI Health Institute is a comprehensive two-part virtual educational program designed for human resource professionals, benefits administrators, self-insured employers, TPAs, insurance professionals, consultants, and others involved in the management of employer-sponsored health plans.

Part 1 provides a practical foundation in self-funding concepts, plan administration, compliance requirements, and cost-containment strategies. Attendees will gain a clearer understanding of the key components of a self-funded health plan and learn how successful employers are navigating today's healthcare challenges.

Topics Include:

- Self-Funding Fundamentals & Plan Structure
- Healthcare Cost Drivers & Emerging Trends
- Plan Design Strategies That Control Costs
- Pharmacy Benefit Management (PBMs)
- Claims Management & Cost Containment
- Compliance Basics & Employer Responsibilities

Focused on real-world application rather than theory, the MASI Health Institute delivers practical education that participants can immediately put to work in their organizations.
